Dear Friends; fighters and Instructors;

On behalf of US Open organization committee, I cordially invite you and your school to participate in US Open Fighting Challenge on March 18 hosted by Jeff Bordelon. This will be the first USASKF's US Open Kungfu Sanshou Fighting Challenge to be held in Houma, LA. United States of America Sanshou Kungfu Federation and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in cooperation with the Liu Institute International and Southern Kungfu will work together to raise funds for New Orleans Katrina affected students and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital (non-profit) which is the single largest center in the United States for the treatment and research of pediatric genetic immune defects, cancer and Aids, and other childhood catastrophic diseases.

Houma is only about 40-50 minutes from the New Orleans international airport where Jeff's school will pick all the incoming fighters. The Federation and the Liu Institute will work hard with him so that he may run a hugely successful event. There will be both beginner and advanced divisions for not only novice enthusiasts but also internationally recognized Kungfu Sanshou fighters. Patrick Barry will be back in New Orleans for the fight. The event location is 111 Kade Lane, Houma, LA. His phone number is (985) 879-2262. The event accommodation is 2500 QUALITY HOTEL, 210 SOUTH HOLLYWOOD RD, HOUMA, LA. The phone number is: (985) 868-5851; Email: gm.LA137@choic-hotels.com. For tournament information and registration, please call 251-343-6023, or visit www.usaskf.org or www.shaolin-world.net

The night of March 18th will be the climax of the event featuring the US Open title fighting along with Shaolin legacy Show.

This amateur Sanshou open tournament is to give every novice Sanshou competitors as well as experienced fighters some good experience and training opportunities to improve their skills. The tournament is also set for searching some of the best Sanshou fighters in the US and internationally.
